7 The Request of the Mysore Mtlly for special treatment in respect of unlimited free supply of water to the Charitable and ^{religious} ~~public~~ institutions of the place involves a question of policy. The Mysore city mtlly ~~has not~~ while, it is seen, not be satisfied if their case is treated on similar lines as those of Bangalore. The water supply Deptt's proposal to allow free supply calculated on the actual consumption ~~thereof~~ is as fair and such a restriction ~~border~~ is necessary both in the interests of the public and the management of the institutions themselves. Very often, the Charitable institutions, ^{and} ~~because~~ they are charitable are allowed to ~~be treated~~.

in such a grossly careless and negligent manner that they rapidly deteriorate and their utility is diminished. The sad tale of the bad management of chattrams in debts, loss of vessels, destruction of buildings etc is within the knowledge of every district officer. As a disciplinary measure therefore some restrictions on the conveniences afforded to be necessary, both to check lavish use of conveniences and to secure the efficiency of the institutions.

As regards the present question it is submitted that the restriction proposed appears necessary. A concession however may be granted in addition, by ~~allowing~~ ensuring the maximum limit once in 3 or 5 years, on the basis of the figures for the previous years ~~and~~ supported by evidence as regards the growing needs of the institutions themselves. The charitable institutions for instance should be able to prove with reference to their reports that the number of visitors has steadily increased during certain number of years, on the result of which ~~green water will continue to be taken~~ in the case of religious institutions also the need for raising the maximum should be clearly established by indicating the ways in which the water consuming items of the institutions have developed. This will perhaps solve the difficulty in a way while it will necessitate the institutions themselves to exercise caution before applying for additional allowance.

9 If the general policy is decided, then it will be necessary to obtain a correct list of all the charitable and religious institutions in the city entitled to free allowance of water.

11 The enclosures to the Presd's letter contain very strong representations with regard to treating the religious and charitable institutions of the Mysore City with special latitude in the matter of free supply of water. They ~~do not~~ object to being treated on lines similar to those adopted in the case of the B'lor City. Though they may be dealt with in as liberal a manner as possible ~~it~~ it seems desirable to frame some rules & place some restrictions as in the case of Bangalore. The point is for order.

Final Note by the Second Member of Council

question of the free supply of water to the public, charitable and religious institutions in the Mysore City.

These papers relate to the free supply of water to the public, charitable and religious institutions in the Bangalore and Mysore Cities.

D P. The quantity of water to be supplied free to these institutions is regulated under rule 23 of the Water Supply Rules of 29th June 1912. As a result, however, of the representations of leading Hindu and mahomedan residents, of the Bangalore City these institutions have been allowed so far as the said city is concerned, a quantity of free supply of water fixed with reference to their normal requirements, as laid down in Government Order nos. P.W.309-46-1863-700 dated 20th february 1915 and P.W.1323-32 = 5302-11 dated 12th november 1919 the quantity consumed in excess of the free supply allowed as above has to be paid for by the institutions concerned.

Y 3. In the Mysore City, the free quantity to be allowed has not yet been fixed and no excess water charges are therefore recovered in respect of these institutions. The Municipal Council have submitted a strong representation that in consideration of the unique importance of the city as the capital of the State, all public, charitable and religious institutions may continue to be given a free supply of water.

4. On the file coming up to me I called for a statement of the excess water charges recovered from such institutions in the Bangalore City and on an examination of the ^{statement} I noted as follows on the 11th November 1919 -

3 The statement now submitted shows that the orders of the Government

As regards Mysore City lists of such institutions may be called for and suitable free allowances may be fixed. In Mysore City no excess charges need be charged for such institutions during His Highness'

Letter No. 117 dated 2nd January 1919, from the President, City Municipal Council, Mysore, to the Secretary, to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, Public Works Department

With reference to Docket No. 10203 dated 29th September 1916, from the Chief-Engineer in Mysore to the Superintending Engineer, (copy enclosed) received through the Superintendent, Vani Vilasa Water Works, Mysore, stating that the recommendation of the Mysore City Municipal Council to exempt the charitable and religious Institutions in the Mysore City from payment of excess water charges cannot be sanctioned on the ground that the Vani Vilasa Water Works are worked on a commercial basis etc . I have the honour to submit that a Special Committee appointed for the purpose by the Council, having very carefully considered the subject from all possible points of view, were of firm opinion that their resolution of 3rd May 1916 (copy enclosed) was most suitable in the best interests of the population and their instincts in this ancient Seat of Hindu Kingdom, the circumstances connected wherewith are so peculiar in their nature that analogy of other Cities do not apply to it, nor can the principle of commercial basis be pushed to its extreme limit without any reference to local conditions and environments.

2 As the Capital of the State, the City has always a large floating population both from within the whole of the State and from outside, resorting to the City for Dasara and other national festivities and on other high ceremonial occasions and functions The duty of providing such large population with accommodation and drinking water etc , is not purely a local Municipal concern but a suitable charge on State funds

5 I have accordingly to request that you may be so good as to lay the subject before Government for further favourable consideration and orders

Copy of Docket No. 10203 dated, Bangalore, 29th September 1916, from the Chief Engineer of Mysore, to the Superintending Engineer

Superintending Engineer's Nos. 7662/G dated the 14th August 1916, submitting copies of correspondence received from the Executive Engineer, Water Supply Division, requesting sanction to exempt the Charitable and religious Institutions at Mysore from payment of excess water charges, as recommended by the Municipal Council

With reference to the above, has the honour to inform the Superintending Engineer, that the Municipal Council's recommendation cannot be sanctioned as the Vani Vilas Water Works are worked on a commercial basis. The water supply system is already working at a loss and, by the grant of free supply to these institutions, the concern will become a losing one.

2 In Bangalore City, such institutions are granted a free allowance of water based on their actual consumption and are required to pay for water consumed in excess of that quantity.
Similar concession may be shown in the case of institutions also in Mysore City, so that there may be no invidious distinction between the two Cities. If the President of the Municipal Council is agreeable to this proposal, he may be requested to furnish a statement of charitable and religious institutions in the City, noting against each the quantity of water now allowed free, the actual consumption of water therein and the quantity of free water allowance now recommended by the Municipal Council

3 On receipt of this statement, necessary sanction of Government will be obtained

No 9731/G dated 14th November 1916 has the honour to forward copy of the foregoing to the Executive Engineer Water Supply Division, with reference to his No. 770 dated 5th August 1916, for information and early submission of the statement called for by the Chief Engineer in para 3 if the President of the Municipal Council is agreeable to the proposal made by the Chief Engineer in para 2 of his Docket

As insurmountable difficulties are likely to arise in charging water rate on water supplied to mosques, temples, chattrams, makhans etc , constituting religious and charitable institutions proper, and would prove a source of discouragement for these institutions whose maintenance in it is resolved that Government be requested to be pleased to

NOTE

Mysore City is most auspiciously associated with the Royal Family of Mysore. The modern City traces the foundation of its prosperity to His Highness Sri Krishnaraja Wodeyar III during whose reign the Capital of the State was transferred from Seringapatam to this City - His Highness's foreseeing solicitude to His Capital and gracious encouragement, induced settlers very largely. The population here is mostly made up of the dependents on the Palace and those connected more or less with His Highness's Court. His Highness's bounty has been extended to all professions, classes and religionists, without distinction. Their very life here is due to the liberal concessions granted under Royal pleasure. Mysore is entirely our Sovereign-made City where Royal charity is prominently significant.

2. The most distinguishing feature of this City is the large number of charitable institutions which owe their origin to Royal bounty. The noble example of our Ruler has given stimulus to private enterprise, calling into existence subsidiary works of charity in accordance with the instincts of their respective religious persuasions in the field of public usefulness. Poor, as most of the citizens who have founded several local charities are, their enthusiasm and disinterestedness are none the less remarkable. That our temples, chattrams, dharmasalas, mosques, makans etc., meet the requirements of visitors and travellers, is unquestionable. They afford much needed shelter, as far as they can, to the large large influx of people to Mysore during His Highness the Maharaja's Birthday and the Dasara, the national festival, every year

3. All the chattrams and other charitable and religious institutions formerly depended upon local wells and Karanjees from tanks for water. These have, since, mostly run dry and have become useless and most of them have been closed in the interests of sanitation. The Vani Vilas Water Works which furnish water to the City, constitute the only source of water supply to these institutions. The funds allotted for the maintenance of the majority of these charitable institutions are hardly sufficient even to meet the cost of maintaining them in repair. To burden them by levying any excess water charges would go far to diminish their sphere of usefulness and bring about their collapse. They mainly look to the Municipality and the Government for their continuance, their founders or their representatives being too poor to bear the burden of their maintenance in any way.

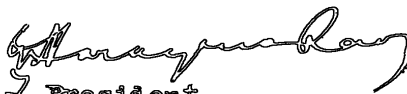

4. It is the duty of the Municipal Council to provide water for the many travellers and visitors that come to Mysore City on the occasion of our national and other festivals and it does not seem expedient that visitors should be made to pay for this, and as the institutions that provide accommodation for travellers and visitors have little or no endowments, their insignificant funds do not permit of the payment of excess water charges. Under these circumstances, if payment has to be made for water for charitable institutions, the Municipal Council or the Government must bear the cost. The Council have been paying to Government the whole of the realizations of the general general water tax at 3 per cent of the annual rental value of houses in the City which comes to about Rs 15,000 and the Government have been generously contributing the remainder of the total expenditure on the water supply to the City, the excess water charges amounting to about Rs. 6,000 being also credited to Government. As these charitable and other public institutions meet the needs of the general public in a remarkable way, just as public fountains they ought, it is submitted, to be viewed in the same light as public fountains and no separate charges demanded for excess water used by them.

5. Having regard to the peculiar conditions of this Historic Capital of His Highness's dominions, and the need for the encouragement of local charitable institutions and instincts in the interests of its development, expansion and prosperity, it is most earnestly requested that special treatment be kindly extended to the Municipality in this respect and free supply of water be graciously allowed to all our local charitable and public Institutions.

Mysore,

President,
City Municipal Council
